The subject is the union of two semantic entities: the agent and the intransitive argument. For example, in the intransitive sentence “He ran,” He is the intransitive argument and thus uses the subject pronoun form. He also appears in the sentence “He chased him.” In this case, it is the agent.

~~What is the difference between a subject and an agent in ...~~

In linguistics, a grammatical agent is the thematic relation of the cause or initiator to an event. The agent is a semantic concept distinct from the subject of a sentence as well as from the topic. Whereas the subject is determined syntactically, primarily through word order, the agent is determined through its relationship to the action expressed by the verb.
